The nomination of candidates was exceeded in interest by the speech which was made by Mr. Hearst, in which he read some more letters regarding Standard Oil, and it was after 11 o'clock before the convention was permanently organized. The hall had been packed and jammed, but with Mr. Hearst's speech out of the way there was an exodus, and many many empty seats remained. Therewere nominally about 500 delegates, one for every 500 votes cast under the

The biggest noise came, however, when a loud voiced man sang out, "Who got Teddy Roosevelt working overtime?" and was answered by shouts of "Hearst!"

Mr. Hearst came in while the convention was waiting on its committees. The crowd spotted him at the door and though he sat down with the New York delegates he sat down with the New York delegates he was yanked quickly out of his seat and made to take the platform. For over ten minutes the delegates and spec-tators let themselves out. Mr. Shearn was chairman of the committee which drew up the platform. This praised Mr. Hearst for supplying "damning evidence of corrupt corporation control" and "arousing the national conscience by it," denounced Mr. Chanier as a "renegate candidate for Governor, who had used his election by the Independence League as a means of betraying the people, and then proceeded to attack Gov. The cross-examination then bore on the question of bribery. Mr. Gompers said that while in New York on business the latter part of the summer of 1907 he was accosted by a man giving the name of Brandenburg, who claimed to know him. After the two had met several times, Mr. Gompers declared, Brandenburg told him that he had been sent by Mr. Van Cleave to offer him money to desert the cause of labor and betray its secret.

He added that he would move in coart to have the statement stricken from the records.

In the course of his testimony Mr. Gompers declared that a "systematic effort" had been begun to destroy organized labor. Mr. Van Cleave, he said, had undertaken to raise a fund of $1,500,000 with that end in view.

The testimony before the examiner in the contempt case continues to cover a wide field. Attorneys on both sides have charged the other side with unnecessary questioning.

George Boudinot, secretary of the Na-tional Association of Manufacturers; H. H. Lewis, editor of American Industries, the organ of the association, and others familiar with the affairs of the association said yesterday afternoon that Samuel Gompers was not telling the truth when he said that attempts had been made on behalf of the association to bribe him to describe the course of labor.

That ought to cover it. This silly charge is not even new. On November 22, last, at Norfolk, Va., Mr. Gompers got up in the convention of the American Federation of Labor and made a similar accusation against Brough-ton Brandenburg, the writer. The charge fell to the ground." .

"The only comment I have to make is that Gompers is a condemned liar," said Secretary Boudinot.

Others connected with the association asked of what possible use Samuel Gompers could be to the association in any capacity. Why, they said, should any one want to bribe Gompers?

TORE HIS SKIN OFF IN SHREDS

Itching was Intense—Humor Spread from Hands to Body-Work Interrupted and Sleep Often Impossible -Disease Resisted Treatment

BUT CUTICURA CURED HIM IN THREE WEEKS

"My trouble commenced about two years ago and consisted, at first, of an eruption of s mail
pustules on my hands. These spread later to other parts of my body,
and the itching at times was intense, so much so that I literally tore the skin off
in shreds in seeking relief. The awful

in shreds in seeking relief. The awful it ching interfered with my work considerably, and also kept me a wake nights. I tried several doctors and used a number of different ointments and lotions but received practically no benefit. Finally I settled down to the use of Cuticura Sosp, Cuticura Ointment, and Guticura Resolvent Pills, with the result that in a few days all itching had ceased and in about three weeks' time all traces of my eruption had disappeared. I have had no trouble of this kind since. H. A. Krutakoff, 957 W. 51st Place, Chicago, Ill., November 18 and 28, 1907."

SKIN HEALTH Effected by Cuticura Soap, Ontment, and Resolvent.

She agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in sectema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in acne and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in tetter, or salt rheum—all demand a remedy of extraordinary virtues to successfully cope with them.
